Sep 15, 2009

Central Valley Business Times

The best plans – “blueprints” – for the future of the San Joaquin Valley are to be honored by the San Joaquin Valley

Regional Policy Council at its fall policy conference luncheon on Oct. 2 in Fresno. The contest stemmed from an effort three years ago by the eight regional planning agencies in the Valley to develop the first-ever coordinated valley vision – the San Joaquin Valley Regional Blueprint.

The regional venture is being conducted in each of the eight counties in the San Joaquin Valley and has recently been integrated to form a preferred vision for future development throughout the Valley to the year 2050.

In an effort to recognize plans, policies and projects that are “Blueprint friendly,” the planning agencies created an awards program specifically designed for this purpose.
